

PRIVATE FUNCTION

► Why this new A-list members' club has Gwyneth running the show

THE SUNDAY TIMES

What's new in the world of hair, beauty and skin

All the latest beauty accessories and products, from brunette sun-kissed hair to bronzing powder. Plus Amelie Jackson-Gray's beautiful life products

The Sunday Times Published: 19 June 2011

WHAT'S NEW

Who's the Jessie now?
Ta-dah! We can confirm that Jessie J has a forehead and eyebrows. No longer doing it like a dude, she had the paps in a double take at a recent awards ceremony with her surprise glam-over. Her trademark Lego-man bob was swept sideways and oomphed up with girly waves. Her customary flicky kohl was swapped for Bambi lashes, and the Cruella lip for dewy blusher. Do we like? Yes, we do, and not only because a change is as good as a rest. The message that this look sends out, loud and clear, is that pretty needn't mean wimpy. And note those perfect eyebrows.

5 STAR PRODUCT

one, foundation and bronzer: Bourjois Délices de Soleil Mineral Bronzing Powder is the perfect summer time-saver. Better still, it can be tailored to your skin tone. Just mix some of the light and dark powders for that perfect, just-back-from-holiday glow. £10, from Superdrug, Boots and asos.com

Two steps
in

I'd like a sunkissed look for summer, but my hair is naturally dark brown. My hairdresser advised getting highlights as an alternative

THE PROFESSIONALS

blonde. What do you suggest Harriet, by email

Find a new hairdresser! Highlights on dark hair tend to come out more Tony the Tiger than blonde bombshell. You don't have to miss all the summer fun, though. Dip dyeing, where just the ends of your hair are bleached honey blonde for a beachy, grown-out look, remains a clever option for brunettes. Alexa Chung was an early pioneer. It works because you get a lightened effect without putting the blonde next to your face. And if you hate the results, you can chop it all off with minimum loss. For an expert opinion, head to the Jo Hansford salon (johansford.com); its founder is known in Mayfair circles as the queen of blonde. She's given countless celebrities the dip-dye treatment (including Yasmin Le Bon), although here it goes by the somewhat swishier name of Eclipse Colour.

to full-on

Your favourite tip of the week

Apply cream blusher before base. It will shine through and look more natural than sitting on top

Send tips and dilemmas to beauty@sunday-times.co.uk

FEATURED PRODUCTS

bloom

We loved the recent reworking of the Miss Dior Cherie fragrance, but, being somewhat fickle, also love this Blooming Bouquet version. Whether you're a summer bride or just love a floral aroma, this is charming and packed with blooms such as peony and patchouli. £49, from June 29, from Boots

In
full

Smooth operator

This is like the perfect lip balm, but with the power of kryptonite. Why? Because Lineless doesn't just nourish and protect your pouters, it also fills lines, plumps lips and reduces feathering. What else would you expect from Dr Brandt, the world-renowned cosmetic dermatologist? £25;

Amelia Jackson-Gray, actress

Since being in Entourage, I've had to think a bit more about how I look.

I try to keep it fun, but I'm a natural girl at heart. For red-carpet events, I turn to icons for inspiration — I'm fond of Brigitte Bardot's big hair and lashes.

I never wash my face with water. I use Cetaphil, which you can buy anywhere. I also love Skin Food by Weleda, because it doesn't make my skin break out like other moisturisers I've tried. My other must-haves are YSL Touche Eclat, and Maybelline Great Lash mascara, which gets every lash. My signature scent is Coco by Chanel — it's sweet and French.

I trust the French when it comes to fragrance.

MY BEAUTIFUL LIFE

